

Matt has worked with youth and young adults in Vermont for over fifteen years - working to inspire & empower their leadership development and advocating for them in the VT system of care. Matt has done direct service work with young people in, or formerly in foster care, as well as those involved in the corrections system, and those struggling with their mental health or substance use. Matt has years of history promoting young adult leadership & peer support work statewide in Vermont, as well as, training and supporting youth workers to develop a strengths-driven, empowerment system of care for a population of youth that is crossing the line between our children's and adult service systems.
